NEW AKRON BOAT SHOW LAUNCHED

The John S. Knight Center will turn into a “marina” when the new Akron Boat Show drops anchor for 3 days, March 3 – 5, 2017.

Announcement of the new show was made by Jim Armington, owner of Buckeye Sports Center and also chairman of the Lake Erie Marine Trades Association that will produce the event.

“Because the greater Akron area is so rich in lakes and waterways,” explained Armington, “water sports of all kinds are major summer activities for thousands of families. As such, we believe this area deserves a major exhibition that focuses on boating and related activities, and it will be a popular addition to the downtown Akron scene.”

Boats in all shapes and sizes will be displayed by dealers from the northeast Ohio region. The show is expected to have a heavy concentration of family runabouts, pontoon boats, ski and wakeboarding models and fishing boats. They’ll be surrounded by exhibits of water sports equipment, boating accessories and service displays.

“Early March is a perfect time for dealers to introduce their newest models just before the use season begins,” said Bryan Ralston, LEMTA’s president and he show manager, “and the Knight Center is an excellent facility right in the heart of the region.

Ralston also noted the event will feature a daily line-up of seminars and clinics on subjects ranging from wake surfing to fishing. Our goal is to make this event a fun experience that leads attendees to get ready for the boating season just ahead.”

LEMTA is an organization that annually stages multiple boat shows including: The Mid-America Boat Show in Cleveland; Catawba Island Boat Show in Port Clinton; North American In-Water Boat Show at Cedar Point; and the Chicagoland Boat Show in northern Indiana.

Show hours will be: Opening Friday (3/3) 12 Noon to 9:00 pm; Saturday (3/4) 10:00 am to 9:00 pm; Sunday (3/5) 10:00 am to 6:00 pm. Admission: $5.00 Adults; Children 12 & under Free.
